At Least 200 Injured, Many Critically. As Half of Town Is Razed

FIRE BREAKS OUT,

Power Plant Is Destroyed;
All Medical Supplies
Are Lost

BERRYVILLE, Ark., Oct. 30. —
At least 27 persons were killed and more than 200 injured, many critically, when a tornado leveled more than half of this Ozark mountain town late last night.

Several of the injured were so badly hurt that physicians advised against transporting to hospitals.
Fires broke out immediately after the tornado, forcing the survivors to drop their rescue operations for a time to prevent spread of the flames through the splintered wreckage.

Rail Station Collapses

Approximately 25 persons were trapped and injured in the collapse of the Missouri and Arkansas railroad station. Most of them were waiting to board a northbound train.

Without hospital facilities, the stricken town of 1,485 population had only three physicians to care for the scores of injured.

The only drug store was demolished and most of the drugs and medical supplies were destroyed,
making it impossible for the three doctors to do more than give first aid until supplies arrived from nearby towns.

Doctors and nurses were sent from Harrison and Eureka Springs and several loads of injured were taken to hospitals in other communities.

A passenger bus came through the stricken town 30 minutes after the disaster. Its passengers alighted or stood up to make room for some of the worst injured being taken to the Harrison hospital.

The tornado left the town helpless.

The power plant was destroyed,
forcing rescue workers to work by torch light, flashlight, lanterns,
candles, or even matches.

The telephone system remained in operation through use of an emergency battery system.

An eight-man medical detachment from Camp Robinson was ordered to Berryville, with medical supplies. An appeal for assistance was sent to the Red Cross at Little Rock.

The city hall and court house,
two of the few buildings remaining intact in the business district, were converted into emergency hospitals.

War Relics Go Into Scrap Heap

Relics of the first World war, these captured enemy weapons, including a German machine gun,
are enroute to district steel mills
for conversion into U. S. armaments with which to pound Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito into submission.

Standing before Salem's military honor roll, Commander Milton Critchfield of Charles H. Carey
post, American Legion, and Arthur V. Smith, chairman of the city's scrap metal drive, pose with the weapons which the Legionnaires
donated to aid the Allied cause.

After the picture was taken,
Smith and Critchfield took sledge
hammers and smashed the implements so that they would be good only for U. S. scrap.

The saber which the men hold,
one from the Civil war, was tossed
into the scrap heap for good measure.

The city's military honor roll in front of the Legion home has been filled since the above photo was taken and now lists the names of 798 Salem men who are in some branch of the nation's fighting forces. There are 14 columns on the roster, with 57 names to a column.

With many more names yet to add, Legion post officials are presented today that the names of other soldiers, sailors and marines
can be given the proper recognition.

TRUCK DRIVERS TO DISCUSS NEW RULE

All truck owners are invited to a meeting in the Memorial building at 8:30 p. m. Saturday at which time a representative of the Office of Defense Transportation will be present. Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club, announced today.

Instructions on the use of the "Certificate of War Necessity" and the filing of the applications will be discussed.

Morris explained that under the present ruling, any truck not having such a certificate of War Necessity after Nov. 15, will not be able to obtain gasoline and urged that truck owners avail themselves of the opportunity to familiarize themselves with this regulation and file their applications.

Att'y W. Edmund Peters, who is in charge of the conservation of defense transportation here, also pointed out today that everyone who drives a truck must file application for a government certificate.

Most trucks with P. U. C. O. permits have been mailed application forms. The man who drives a truck for his own personal use and not for hire must have a certificate too, and he can obtain an application form by wiring the Office of Defense Transportation.

be done at once, Peters said, since the deadline is Saturday.

U.S. MAY ORDER
REGISTERING
OF ALL WOMEN

Compulsory Program Under Consideration Now, Says President

NATIONAL SERVICE
PLAN IS STUDIED

Centralization of Manpower Matters Is Urged
By Labor

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Roosevelt informed a press conference today that no decision
had been reached yet on the issue of national service legislation but he added that the possibility of compulsory registration of women
was under consideration.

The chief executive said such a registration would not mean that women would be ordered, by compulsion, to go here, there or the other place to work. It would be aimed, he said, at trying to find out where the available supply of women workers exists and something of their fitness for war industry jobs.

Major Topic

This registration idea, Mr. Roosevelt said, was the major topic of discussion when he met yesterday
with the CIO-AFL labor war board.
The board members talked, he said,
if registering women of 18 to 65,
legislation would be required to authorize this canvass of women power.

Probably that would mean, the President said, that the survey
could not be made before the end of the year. But, replying to a question, he said he did not think it should be implied that national service legislation necessarily would be delayed until that time.

He emphasized that there had been no decision whatever on such legislation up to this point, remarking that it still was in the study stage.

On Capitol Hill today the American Federation of Labor joined the CIO in urging centralization of war production and manpower matters under a civilian coordinating board.

"We need definite grants of authority to a top board which should be our strategy board, with a clear, straight line of authority extending to the agencies coordinated," William Green, AFL president, testified.

Recommendation: Unification
Earlier CIO President Philip
Murray had recommended unification of federal functions under a "conference committee of the nation."

ABSENTEE VOTERS
MAY FILE MONDAY

Persons from Columbiana county
serving in the armed forces may vast absent voters' ballots as late as Monday, eve of Tuesday's state,
district and county election, although absentee balloting for civilians was suspended by state law
at 6:30 last night, state election
officials ruled today.

Soldiers, sailors, marines, army
and navy nurses and members of auxiliary services also will be permitted to register, if residents of the registration area, in order to qualify for voting, under the ruling.
Election officials at East Liverpool said 292 absent and disabled voters' ballots were issued before the civilian voting deadline.

The state regulations also provide for acceptance of returned ballots of service men and women as late as the polls are open on election day.

POLICE WARRING
ON HORN TOOTING

The police department is conducting a war of its own—against motorists who toot horns unnece-
sarily, much to the discomfort of fellow citizens, and particularly the war worker who is trying to get a little sleep.

Glen A. Miller of R. D. 2, Salem, became the second victim of the police campaign yesterday when he was arrested on a charge of needlessly blowing a set of musical horns on his automobile.

Arraigned this morning before Mayor R. R. Johnson, Miller was fined $10 and costs ($15.00).
Another driver, charged by police with the improper use of a spotlight, was cited to appear in court late today.

NEW LOW VOTE
RECORD SEEN

Campaign Nearing end One Of Most Listless In History

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30.—Unable to divert voters' minds from war to politics, Ohio political leaders and candidates experienced perhaps the most listless campaign in the state's history with prospects of a record
low vote being cast next Tuesday.
Official estimates of the probable total vote were 1,750,000—slightly more than one-half the vote two years ago and about 700,000 under the 1938 total.

Chief interest centered in the contest for governor between the incumbent Republican John W.
Bricker, who seeks a third term,
and former Congressman John Mc-
Sweeney, the Democratic candidate.

Other state officers to be chosen are lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general and three supreme court members. Voters also will choose 23 congressmen, complete membership of both houses of the state legislature,
appellate court judges and some county officials.

Surplus Is Issue

Gubernatorial issues were limited
mainly to a state treasury surplus of over $20,000,000 and the state's war effort. Congressional issues, particularly where incumbent Republicans were seeking re-election,
were isolationism and prosecution of the war. Such issues were ineffective in the primary as only one incumbent congressional candidate, Democrat Martin L. Sweeney
in the 21st (Cleveland) district,
was defeated.

Personalities crept into the gubernatorial fight with respect to records of the two candidates in the first world war. Old age pensions were injected as an issue late in the campaign by Democratic State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson who charged Governor Bricker with "political manipulation" of pensions and asked President Roose-

DR. CORSO CALLED TO ARMY SERVICE

City Hospital House Phy-

Dr. Paul Corso, house physician and anesthetist at Salem City hospital, today received notification
of his commission in the Army Medical corps as a captain, with orders to report at Fort Hayes in Columbus on Nov. 12.

He is the third Salem doctor to be called for army service. Dr. Tob-ert H. McKelvey and Dr. Ralph J.
Starbuck left two months ago.

D. Corso, a native of this city, has been a practicing physician here for nine years.

He received his pre-medical training at the University of Pittsburgh and his M. D. degree from the University of St. Louis. He served his internship at St. John's hospital in Cleveland.

His wife and son may join him
later after he is assigned by the army.

Dr. Corso is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Corso who have two other sons in the army. Pvt. Mike Corso, now believed to be on the high seas, and Pvt. James Corso, who is somewhere in the vicinity of Australia.

FINISH EAST STATE
RE-SEALING WORK

Finishing touches were expected to be applied today on the re-sealing treatment of E. State st.
from Lincoln ave. to the east corporation limit beyond City hospital.

The job of spreading an asphaltic
oil and slag mixture over the thoroughfare was started yesterday morning by the Wayne C. Neff Co.
of Warren, road contractors, assisted by service department workers.

The project, delayed from Wednesday due to cold weather, was made possible by a priority rating
on the asphalt material. Service Director Frank Wilson said.

The "re-surfacing" will cost the city approximately $1300. A total of 5,500 gallons of the asphaltic
mix was used, together with 120 tons of slag. The asphaltic oil cost 18 cents a gallon applied and the slag $2.50 a ton.

The service director said he had hoped to obtain sufficient material to give downtown E. State st. a surface treatment.

British Army Continues Its Drive Into El Alamein Line

(By Associated Press)

CAIRO, Oct. 30.—Britain's Eighth army has driven deeper into the Axis' El Alamein line defenses in conjunction with a ceaseless Allied air offensive taking steadily heavier toll in the enemy's rear, official reports from the front announced today.

Fighter pilots of the United States army force alone have shot down 22 enemy fighters in five days, with a loss of only two of their own although the Germans have been loathe to battle them
and avoided them altogether yesterday.

At the end of the first week of the offensive to decide the fate of the Mediterranean, however, neither side apparently was ready to throw its main armored forces into the struggle—neither the British to exploit their gains nor the Germans to plug the menacing gaps in their lines.

Infantry was emphasized in a British communiqué which dealt mostly with the damaging blows on the Axis from the air and reported
the land action in these four sentences:

"During the night of Oct. 28-29
our infantry extended gains in ground formerly held by the enemy.
A further number of German prisoners.

"There were minor engagements
with enemy armored troops yesterday on whom casualties were inflicted.

"Fighting continues."

JAPANESE NAVAL DRIVE EXPECTED

Allied Airpower Continues
To Lash Out at Enemy Installations

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The navy announced today the American troops on Guadalcanal had destroyed 12 Japanese light tanks in the last week and that in the last two days torpedo boats had scored a torpedo hit on a Japanese destroyer which was engaged in reinforcing enemy troops on the island.
A communiqué on the Solomons
islands activity said that land
fighting on Guadalcanal island on the last two days had been confined to small skirmishes, but American aircraft were continuing to bomb and strafe enemy positions west of the airfield.

In the late afternoon of Oct. 28
(Island time) American fighter planes destroyed two enemy seaplanes at Rekata bay. On the morning of Oct. 29, enemy bombers attacked the American positions on Guadalcanal, but all their bombs dropped in the water, the navy
said, and no damage resulted.

Lull Develops

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Stubbornly battering back more Japanese attacks, American troops hung grimly to their prized Guadalcanal
airfield today as an ominous lull seemed to envelop operations of the huge enemy war fleet in the Southwestern Pacific.

A terrific Japanese naval onslaught in the Solomons area was expected to break shortly against admittedly inferior numbers of United States warships but, meanwhile, Allied airplanes lashed out at enemy vessels, planes, troops and installations over the wide battle front.

The navy reported yesterday that the American marines and army troops on Guadalcanal broke up
three additional Japanese assaults
on Oct. 27 (Solomons island time).
The airfield defenders were thrown back by one heavy attack but countered quickly and regained their positions.

Assault Enemy Bases

Importance of the airfield, captured by the U. S. marines early in August and desperately sought by the Japanese since, has been evidenced by the almost daily American aerial attacks on nearby enemy bases.

The latest air bombardment announced by the navy struck Japanese gun emplacements on western Guadalcanal, destroying an anti-aircraft battery and an ammunition dump.

At the Japanese base in Rekata bay in the Central Solomons, the American planes set shore installations aflame and destroyed four seaplanes boosting the Japanese plane toll to 413 since the campaign started.

AN APOLOGY FOR LAZY VOTERS

All candidates and commentators have remarked the relative lack of interest in this year's election. This, they have agreed, is a bad thing. When Americans are willing to fight for the right to make their own decisions they should be willing to vote.

There can be no defense for lazy voters, but there can be an apology. Their behavior as a group merely reflects one of the fixed characteristics of the kind of government they support. It is a government of time-taking and pondering. Its secret is deliberation that eats through superficialities to the ultimate truth. Its method is compromise that blunts sharp purpose and takes a little from everybody in order that nobody may claim a triumph.

The seat of this method is congress, which always falls into bad repute during wartime, when the premium is on quick, decisive action, instead of deliberation. That doesn't mean that congress has failed—only that all the decisions made by congress when there was time for deliberation are being tested by the necessity for running the nation of its character.

What happens to congress is typical of what happens to some extent to government in general during wartime. It is neglected, not because citizens think it has become unimportant but because they take it operation for granted. A tank driver in battle does not have time to worry about the engine; he assumes it will do what needs to be done.

That is why the campaign has not been lively, and that is why the vote will not be heavy, though it is probable its results may be felt out of proportion to the numerical size. There are no more equally important things than voting, but unlike most years there are so many other important things to be done in 1942 than voting and the campaigning that goes with voting can't monopolize popular interest.

GOVERNMENT OF ALL THE PEOPLE

Public interest in the government's anti-trust suit against Associated Press grows from realization that an underlying principle of great importance is at stake.

Aside from details of the governments allegation and the reply by the Associated Press setting forth the organization's legal defense is the fundamental question of whether political authority should be used to advance individual or minority interests.

It is clear to those who try to look objectively at the Associated Press suit that here is a case of government befriending with its influence one specific unit of the American press against many other units of the press. The presumption is that this unit has found favor because of its nature as a newspaper less inclined to be critical of the government than many of the other newspapers which, as members of Associated Press, now are being attacked indirectly. The government's suit to force that organization into acceptance of a newspaper member it has voted to exclude bears the stamp of partisanship.

This willingness to bring the weight of government to bear on matters of at least questionable value in advancement of broad national interests has been the subject of comment in the case of union organization, for instance, where government seemed to promote the interests of a particular interest against some other interest and, some observers felt, against all interests. It is a way of thinking in Washington that has disturbed persons with no special feeling in cases where it has been used—a way of thinking which, pursued far enough, could change government for the people into government for the favored people.

ROAD TO ALASKA

The logic of a road to Alaska, which had been offset for years by the physical difficulties of such an enterprise, has prevailed. It seems important that the physical difficulties dissolved when the need for land communication between the United States and its vital North American possession became great enough.

It isn't much of a road, but it is 100 percent better than it was a year ago—and it will be used this winter for transportation of supplies to United States troops in Alaska. Hollywood, no doubt, already has begun to film its version of the accomplishment, having accumulated experience with the famous Burns road.

Militarily, the road is an inner line of communication stretching 1,700 miles through strategic territory, of the utmost importance to movement of supplies and extension of effectual air power into the jumping-off place for invasion of Japan. Perhaps the ordinary American may be forgiven for not understanding these things clearly; his mind is likely to be confused over thoughts of loading the family into the car some happy post-war morning and driving up to Nome for a vacation, with some stop-overs for fishing on the way.

SOMEONE SHOULD APOLOGIZE

Incredulous, anxious Americans hear that Gen. Douglas MacArthur denies he has political ambitions which could have caused him to be hamstrung by a divided command in the Pacific. Surely there can have been no time in Washington since last Dec. 7 for this sort of thing.

If anything connected with political maneuvering is remotely responsible for today's desperate situation in the southwest Pacific, someone will be held answerable to the American people. This is not the army-navy football game any more. This is war, with the lives of thousands of America's finest young men in the balance. This is not a contest to see who can outstrip the other fellow, but a contest to see whether the United States is going to be driven out of her western Pacific by the raiders who swarmed down on Pearl Harbor.

The people who are going to do the fighting and sacrificing in this war have retained the right to do some of the criticizing, too. Washington knows they were puzzled about Pearl Harbor; the Roberts commission was sent out there to make an investigation for the people's benefit. They were puzzled about Bataan. They were puzzled about the fiasco at Singapore, and they have been puzzled about the action in the Aleutians. Throughout the war in the Pacific they have had to give their government and their military services the benefit of their doubts.

When the supreme commander of the southwest Pacific feels he must state publicly that it couldn't have been his political ambitions that caused him to become part of a divided command in the Pacific area, someone should apologize to every anxious family shocked at such a possibility. If the current action there seems to be affected unfavorably by lack of unified command, someone will have to apologize. The people's puzzlement over this ghastly issue of unified command will turn to righteous indignation.

THE STARS SAY:

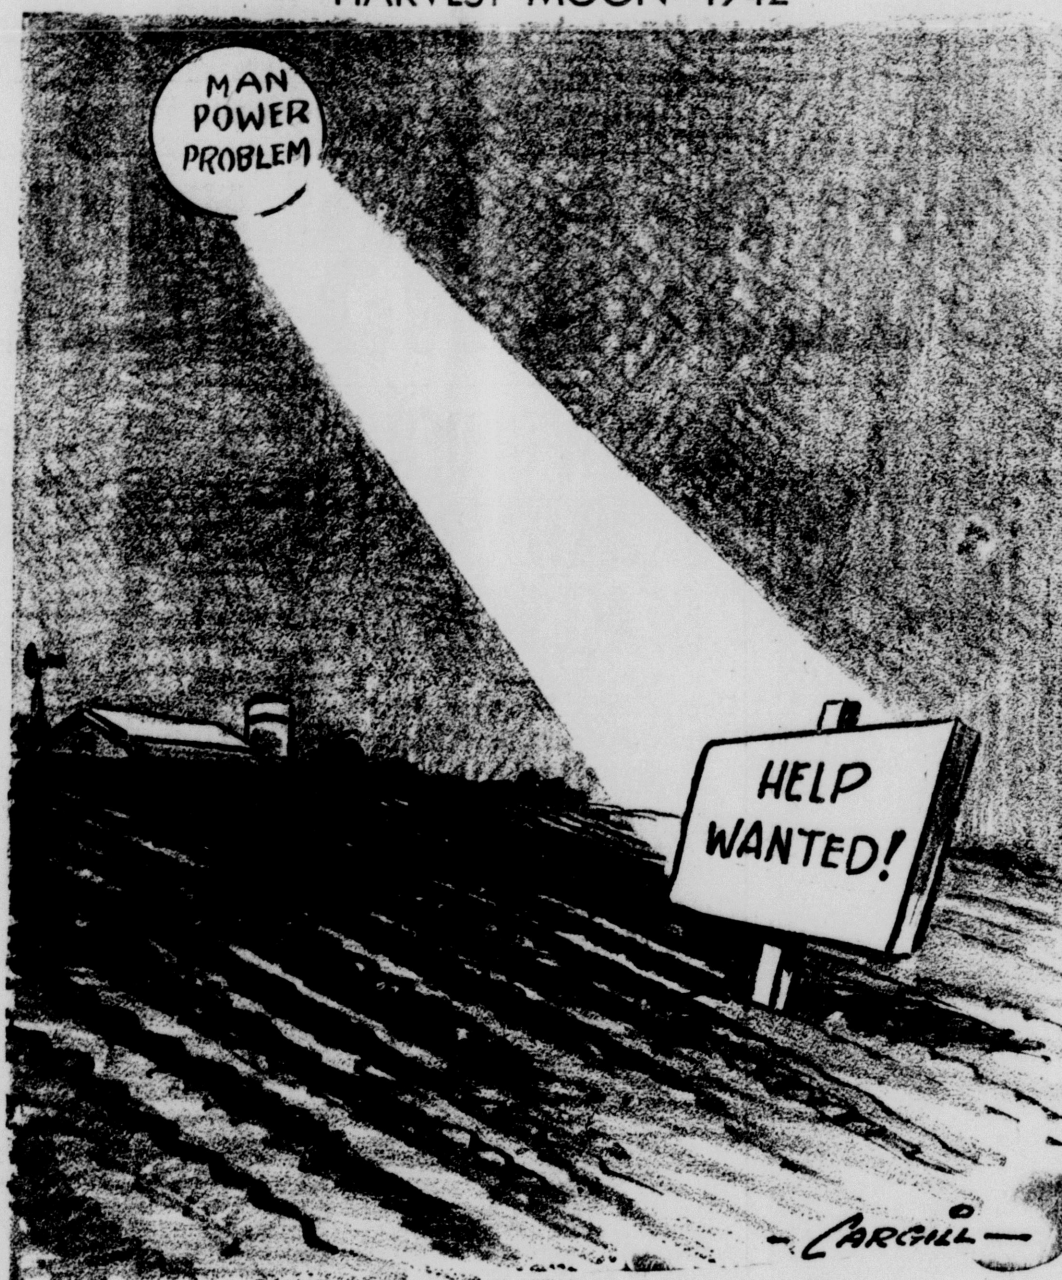

For Saturday, October 31

A DIFFICULT day with strange and sudden developments that call for more than ordinary discretion, circumspection and probably intuitive insight or shrewd manipulation if dangerous shoals are to be avoided. Bitter antagonisms, estrangements, and opposition, both public and private, with drastic activities or ruthless tactics may menace seriously.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year which will call for almost colossal strength, shrewdness and wisdom to swerve from the rocks and shoals of disaster, both in personal and in business prepositions. The element of antagonism, opposition, hostility and drastic ways of manifesting these may be found in public, group and "higher up" circles. These may best be manipulated and placated by cool, contained, and amiable conduct, born of intuitive guidance or clever insight into root causes of the animosity.

A child born on this day may have a spectacular career with many ups and downs, this affecting its private as well as public and business associations.

FULLER'S EARTH AS MEDICINE

Doctor Says Pharmacists Stress Value

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

FOR LONG years the weavers used fuller's earth. Fulling consists in soaking the cloth in water and then pounding fuller's earth into it and treading, beating and pounding on it so as to shrink and give it a closer and more even

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

weave. Then the fuller's earth was washed out, and because of its property of absorption it took with it when it was removed, the grease and dirt and left the cloth soft and clean.

Absorption is the name physical chemists give to the process whereby a substance becomes part of another substance and remains in a state midway between mechanical mixture and chemical combination.

The mediaeval weaver knew all this empirically without using the word absorption or making any experiments to find out why fuller's earth was so valuable to him. Nor did anyone in those long ages think that fuller's earth could be used for other purposes—in treating any of the ills of mankind.

In the 16th century, Chinese porcelain was introduced into Europe and its delicacy and lightness was greatly admired. The artisans of the western world tried long to find out what material was used to fashion these beautiful objects.

Discovered by Pharmacists In the early 18th century a pharmacist—not a pharmacist—Boettger, found that it was an earth called kaolin by the Chinese. And this closely guarded secret ingredient of porcelain was practically the same as the humble fuller's earth the weavers had been using for centuries.

Almost at the same time it was found that the Chinese used kaolin as a remedy for cholera, dysentery and stomach complaint. Finally in 1910 it received the dignity of scientific recognition when McRobert used it in the epidemic of Asiatic cholera in the Balkans.

Good Remedy

Why should it not be a good remedy in such cases? It is an aluminum silicate which is adsorptive. Taken into an intestine full of toxic materials and bacteria, it absorbs all these, holds them in suspension so that they cannot get into the blood stream and poison the body, just as it adsorbed the dirt and grease from the weaver's wool.

So today it is successfully used in all sorts of cases of gastro-enteritis. What a long road to take to find so logical and simple a remedy. And with how many people, humble and distinguished, contributing to it! I suggest it as an illustration that the action of drugs is not a magical or haphazard science, but one of entire logic.

Questions and Answers H. A. P.: — Is pumpkin harmful to diabetes?

Answer: No food is harmful to diabetes in itself. The diabetic has to figure a diet and keep within a certain restriction of starches. Pumpkin has starch, but you can eat it provided the amount you take does not overstep your allowance.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

As Allies Press Offensive Against Rommel

Africa is a major battleground again as the Allies attack Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's positions along the El Alamein line (A), thus forcing the Axis to divert planes, men and supplies from the Stalingrad (B) front to aid Rommel. The excellent map above gives, at a glance, the African situation, showing Axis-held territory, Allied positions, railroads, key ports and Allied supply bases.

CAMERAS BANNED ALONG ERIE SHORES

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30.—Don't take your camera along if you're going near the waters of Lake Erie or any of its navigable tributaries. Cameras are taboo in these areas under a new rule announced by the coast guard district headquarters here as a protection to wartime shipping and commerce on these waters.

Cleveland's entire waterfront now is a restricted area patrolled 24 hours a day by gun-bearing guards who challenge all visitors to the city's harbor and shoreline.

As a further precaution against sabotage, Captain R. W. Dempwolf of the coast guard redefined and extended the area in which cameras are prohibited. This district now reaches as far south as Wadsworth, O.; west to the Ohio-Indiana line; east to Dunkirk, N. Y., and north to the Ohio-Michigan line and the international boundary in Lake Erie.

The ban on taking pictures applies to all waterfront facilities in this area. The regulation also prohibits cameras or other photographic apparatus on board any vessel carrying war materials in these waters.

SCHOOLS TO GO ON, BRICKER ASSERTS

Surplus will Maintain Present Standard, Teachers Are Told

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30.—The state treasury surplus will enable Ohio's public schools to carry on their present programs throughout the year, Gov. John W. Bricker declared today.

"The $20,000,000 surplus which we have accumulated is a guarantee that there will be funds to keep the schools of Ohio operating on a high standard during the uncertain days ahead," he told the Northeastern Ohio Teachers association.

Asserting the schools "faced closing because of a deficit exceeding $18,000,000" when his administration took office four years ago, Bricker added:

"We promised that we would take care of that deficit, put the schools on a pay-as-you-go basis, and make the school foundation fund payments on time."

"The record shows we have accomplished this. Twelve million dollars of the inherited school deficit has been paid, and the remaining $6,000,000 needed to retire the debt, repays in the state treasury. Local school boards were paid in full, in cash and on time."

Bricker told the teachers their "splendid work" in connection with rationing, salvage and war bond sales had "earned the gratitude of every citizen."

Vote From Distance

WAVERLY, O., Oct. 30.—Apparently 10 per cent of Pike county's voting population is going to be away from home next Tuesday—election day.

Out of 8,800 voters in the county, 845 have applied for absentee ballots.

CRAWFORD RITES SET FOR SATURDAY

EAST LIVERPOOL, Oct. 30.—Funeral rites will be held here Saturday for Atty Samuel W. Crawford, former East Liverpool mayor, county sheriff and probate judge, who died yesterday morning at his home, 1323 St. Clair ave. He was almost 69 years old.

A Democrat in politics, he served 12 years in elective offices in this normally Republican city and county after working many years as a saggermaker in potteries.

He was among the few Ohioans elected probate judge before admission to the bar. While in office, he studied law and passed the state examination.

A veteran member of organized labor, he had served as a vice president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, parental organization of ceramic workers. He was a 32d degree Mason and a member of the Odd Fellows, Elks, Moose, Knights of Pythias and Ohio State grange.

Mr. Crawford leaves his wife; one daughter, Dr. Ocy May McKinley, of Cleveland; a brother, Frank Crawford of East Liverpool; a sister, Mrs. Harry Monigold of Clarkston; a half-brother, John Leigheue, of Fredericktown, and a granddaughter, Margaret Alice McKinley.

OWNERS MUST SIGN FOR RATION BOOKS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30.—Basic "A" mileage ration books will not be issued at school registration sites unless the applications bear the signatures of registered car owners.

Announcing this today, OPA Attorney Charles F. Taplin, Jr., said, "The purpose of the signature requirement is to prevent the use of the word 'person submitting application' under the space for signature."

Owners must actually sign applications even though they do not take them to the schools in person. If an owner is not available, his name should be signed for him, as "John Doe by Richard Roe", and the applications submitted to local war price and rationing boards Nov. 9 or later, Taplin said.

Sugar Rationing Slashes Output of Illegal Liquor

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Sugar rationing is slashing the moonshiner's output of illegal liquor. Sugar is basic for the moonshiner's product, and he could be smacked with a penalty for sugar bootlegging if he tried to build up his depleted sugar stock. During July, August and September this year agents seized 1,536 stills and arrested 2,833 persons, compared with 2,782 seizures and 5,581 arrests in the same quarter-year of 1941.

SALARIED MEN NOT DOOMED ENTIRELY

Raises Still Possible Save For Those Above That $25,000 Mark

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A hand-picked crew of treasury experts today dug into the job of drafting detailed salary stabilization regulations, the broad outline of which now indicates that the only unorganized white collar workers definitely doomed to go raiseless for the duration are those earning more than $25,000 a year net income.

Except for deductions of federal income taxes, customary charitable contributions, life insurance premiums and fixed obligations, the annual take of the boys in the upper brackets was firmly pegged at the $25,000 figure.

But the treasury's interpretation of Economic Director James F. Byrnes' salary regulations made it a vastly different story for the big majority of folk who earn less than that.
In the long list of unorganized executive, administrative and professional people who receive less than $5,000, plus those of all classes between $5,000 and $25,000, treasury spokesmen said there was scarcely a situation which absolutely precluded the possibility of a raise. Detailed regulations will be announced in about two weeks.

However, the catch in the overall picture was the obvious fact that while these raises still will be possible they will be a lot less probable under the stabilization program.

One reason why employers might want to increase the pay of their workers was seen in Sullivan's statement that there was no existing regulation preventing an employer from leaving one job to take another one which paid a higher salary.

velt to order a federal investigation.
Democrats attacked the state treasury surplus on grounds the extra cash should have been distributed among local governments. Governor Bricker contended the money would be needed to offset declining revenues incident to rationing and priorities.
McSweeney called the states war efforts under Governor Bricker's direction a "joke." Bricker retorted by characterizing McSweeney's assertion as "malicious and positively unpatriotic."

Big Plurality

Governor Bricker won a second term two years ago over former Gov. Martin L. Davey by 364,000 plurality, the largest ever given a gubernatorial candidate in Ohio. While President Roosevelt won the state by a plurality of 147,000, McSweeney, then a candidate for U. S. senator, lost by 145,000.

A Bricker victory this year, politicians believe, would make him a formidable "favorite son" candidate for the presidential nomination in 1944.

Republican leaders claim they are sure of retaining all their present 12 congressional seats and gaining at least three and possibly five or six.

Democrats claim that with a state ticket victory they would retain their present 12 congressional seats and probably add several more.

Compulsory Program Under Consideration Now, Says President

Such a committee, Murray told a senate labor subcommittee on manpower, should include members of congress and representatives of the government, management, labor and agriculture.

Without recognition of the close relationship between manpower and production, Murray declared, "a discussion of a labor freeze or a labor draft is not merely futile nonsense, it is dangerous nonsense."

"If our manpower distribution today as planless and chaotic, a job freeze simply freezes chaos," he said.

Julius Lührsen, executive secretary of the Railway Labor Executive's association, also opposed compulsory drafting of workers.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference he thought a report dealing with national service legislation would reach him soon from the labor-management committee of the war manpower commission.

WAR CHILDREN IS CHARITIES' TOPIC

The problems of children in war-time was the topic for discussion at a district Catholic Charities luncheon meeting at Ravenna yesterday, attended by representatives from northeastern Ohio communities, including Miss Jane Ward of Lisbon, secretary of the Columbiana County Catholic Charities.

Two recommendations resulted from the meeting, the first being that the mother's place is in the home, and not in industry, and secondly, if the mother has to work to gain financial support, her children should be properly cared for, either in a day nursery or in a foster home in the immediate neighborhood.

GOVERNOR RIVALS IN LARGE CITIES

Bricker and McSweeney to Debate Tomorrow In Cleveland

(By Associated Press)
Ohio's gubernatorial candidates
centered their vote-getting efforts
in the state's two largest cities—
Cleveland and Cincinnati—today
as the fall campaign neared its climax.

Gov. John W. Bricker scheduled appearances in Cleveland and Toledo, while his opponent, John Mc-Sweeney, went to Cincinnati.

The campaign reaches its climax tomorrow night when the Republican governor engages the Democrats' standard bearer in a debate
in the Cleveland City Club.

Both candidates made public appearances last night. McSweeney, addressing a Democratic rally in Steubenville, reiterated charges that Governor Bricker had placed Ohio's old age pensioners on "the political auction block" and asserted that November pension checks would be smaller than those distributed in October.

The governor, speaking at Cleveland, said his administration had expanded the state's health and welfare services despite "extreme" economies. He cited particularly his administration's support of a bill to grant legal status to hospital associations, claiming it had given thousands of Ohioans low-cost hospital service.

Democratic State Chairman Darrell
Jones, in an address prepared for radio broadcast at Columbus, compared Bricker's record as a war governor with that of Gov. James M. Cox who was in office during the first World War. Jones enumerated the war accomplishments of Cox,
and asserted that Bricker had done nothing.

In another speech prepared for radio delivery, Ross Boggs, chairman of the Franklin county AFL affiliates, praised Governor Bricker's
labor record and termed Mc-Sweeney's "unsatisfactory," accusing the Democratic candidate of ducking voting on many controversial measures of vital importance to labor when he served in congress.

At Cleveland, Sen. Robert A.
Taft, Cincinnati Republican, predicted Bricker would be re-elected to a third term by a majority of 150,000 to 200,000 votes.

COUNTY WILL GET SPAN FOR ROGERS

LISBON, Oct. 30.—State resident engineer, George Gonzales was notified today by E. R. McCullough, divisional engineer, that an iron bridge from Piedmont will be shipped to Columbiana county in the near future to replace the concrete structure at Rogers on Route 7 which was washed out in June of 1941.

Earl Newell, Columbiana contractor, is already at work removing the old structure. Delay in erecting the new bridge was caused by inability to get steel with which to build a reinforced concrete bridge.

Another salvaged iron bridge
will be sent here to replace the concrete bridge on Route 154, north of Elkton, which was also washed out in the flood of June, 1941. The bridge is being shipped from Belmont county.

The Kelley-Meyer construction company of Youngstown has just completed improvement upon nearly six miles of Route 14 from the intersection of Route 17, east to Unity. Their task consisted of putting a bituminous surface over the concrete road.

Work on the Route 14 cutoff
from Unity to the Pennsylvania state line, under contract to George B. and Cletus Patterson of Wells-ville, will be completed with the next two weeks. The construction company is busy grading and building drainage structures. If the weather is favorable, pouring of concrete on the road, 22 feet in width, will be begun in the near future.

OMAHA—When the soldiers in camps, posts and stations in the seventh service command receive advice on general music programs
they'll get the best, Capt. Glenn Miller of the U. S. Army specialist corps—the former king of five—has reported for duty at the command
headquarters here.

SHERIFF RECOVERS "HOT" AUTO TIRES

Issues Warning To Car Owners To Be Careful When Buying
From Individuals

LISBON, Oct. 30.—Automobile owners of Columbiana county were warned today by Sheriff George Hayes against the purchasing of automobile tires from individuals,
after the recovery of 28 stolen tires
by the sheriff's department and East Liverpool police in recent weeks.

"The warning is for their own good," the sheriff stated, "as they may face any one of three charges,
in addition to losing the tire purchased."

The statement followed the recovery by Sheriff Hayes and his deputies, of four tires, near East Liverpool Tuesday night.

Identified as having been stolen
from cars of pottery workers at Newell, the "hot" tires were taken from cars of persons who had purchased them.

The statutes under which persons found with stolen tires may be charged, the sheriff stated, are:
"receiving and concealing stolen
property," "removing stolen property across the state line," or
"purchasing tires without a certificate."

REPORT RUSSIANS MASSING TROOPS

Germany Says Heavy Thrust In Central Sector Is Looming

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 30.— German news agency reports reaching here today from Berlin
said the Russians are massing
"powerful shock armies" for a winter attempt to break through the Germans' Vitebsk-Smolensk line
some 275 miles west of Moscow.

These reports said signs are increasing daily that the Russians,
despite the continuing heavy German pressure on the Stalingrad and Caucasus fronts, are assembling troops with full aviation and armored support in the Rzhev-Toropets region.

The Russian plan, it was said,
apparently was to send on of these armies westward from Rzhev toward Velikie Luki with strong armored and motorized support and then make a southward encircling sweep in an effort to reach the Divina river near Vitebsk.

At the same time, the reports said, another shock group would set out from Rzhev southward to Vyazma, then wheel toward Smolensk in an attempt to form a junction with the northern wing.
Heavy Russian air forces were said to be massing in the Rzhev-Toropets region and better weather
was reported to have improved roads sufficiently for heavy materiel movement.

The agency said that the Germans already were trying to forestall the offensive with heavy aerial bombardment of concentration centers and rail lines leading from Moscow and Kalinin into the massing areas.

For the past several months the central Russian front has been relatively quiet with Germans holding well-fortified lines hinged on Rzhev, Velikie Luki, Vitebsk and Smolensk.

WPB MUST EXPLAIN BAN ON PRIORITIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A congressional subcommittee has called high-ranking officials of the War Production board to appear Monday
and explain a WPB order halting the issuance of priority certificates for private home building, it was disclosed today.

Representative Herbert (D-La.),
a member of the subcommittee,
charged that congress was promised specifically by WPB officials
last summer before appropriating additional money for war housing that "private industry would be given an even break with public building."

He said the WPB order was "an unexplainable reversal of form,"
and added:

"It's about time that these bureaus recognize the fact that they are creatures of congress and not the congress their creature, merely existing for the purpose of writing
blank checks."

WILLKIE CERTAIN OF AXIS DOWNFALL

Says Nazis Can't Take Russia and Japs Will Bow
To America

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Wendell
L. Willkie says that after his world tour he is convinced that Germany can never take Russia and that the Japanese can never take the United States.

The 1940 Republican candidate for the presidency addressed a
"March of Time" audience last night over the National Broadcasting company's nationwide network, supplementing his recent report to the nation.

"Before I visited Russia," said Willkie, "It was almost unbelieveable to me that any people could stand up under the constant punishment that has been inflicted upon the Russian people by the armies of Germany."

"But I had not been there long before I recognized in their qualities of resource, energy and love of Russia that convinced me they would never be conquered."

Willkie told how he spent the most of one day on the Russian front and had fired incessant questions at a young lieutenant general,
finally inquiring how big a front
he was defending.

"I'm not defending anything," Willkie said, the general replied, "I am attacking!"

"That is symbolic of the spirit of Russia," Willkie said, "and that is why I am just as sure the Germans will never take Russia as I am that the Japanese will never penetrate to a point where Denver
becomes our Stalingrad."

He declared that Russian production "is not enough."

"We must aid them with increasing supplies if they are to hold that hard-fought front which is ours as well as theirs," Willkie said.
"I talked with many American flyers in China. They are healthy and fit, but frustrated and impatient because they have so few planes and bombs and such a big opportunity. Their leader, General Claire Chennault, is adored by the Chinese people and he has probably done more for friendship between the two countries than any other single person."

RAF Blenheim bombers blasted

Believes More Dead
Rea Nelson, undertaker, said he expected there were many more dead buried in the ruins.

"They just can't get in there until daybreak. We don't have any idea of how many may be missing,"
he said.

Some of the escapes were amazing.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fanning were uninjured when the tornado wrecked their bedroom, but the featherbed on which they were

they had over them vanished.

SCHOOLS TO TEACH ANTI-GAS METHODS

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30. — Special schools to train physicians and nurses in methods of protecting civilians in event of enemy gas attacks will be held throughout Ohio.
Alvin H. Stone, state defense director, announced today.
Stone stressed the importance of training as many doctors and nurses as possible in methods of combating chemical warfare not covered in regular medical training and said the "possibility of gas warfare must be considered in preparing civilians for enemy air raids and sabotage."
The first training course will be offered at Columbus Nov. 16. Plans will be held here Nov. 23 and 27. Schools will be conducted in Cincinnati, Dayton, Toledo, Cleveland, Akron and Youngstown at dates to be announced later.
The state health department, the Ohio State Medical association and several universities will co-operate in the training.

BOMBERS LOOM AS NO. 1 WAR WEAPON

Land-Based Planes Expected to Replace Carrier and Battleship

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—War's high mortality rate of aircraft carriers—prime targets of modern fleet engagements—raised today the possibility that the heavily-armed battleship would regain temporarily its place as monarch of the seas.

Land based bombers, totting heavy loads of destruction and ranging thousands of miles in search of the enemy, appear destined to supercede both the battleship and the carrier as the No. 1 weapon of attack.

But, until mass production of such craft reaches a steady stream and until a network of bases for their operation can be developed, the destructive drain upon the carriers of both this nation and Japan has focused new attention on the battleship assets of each.

The navy has reported sinking and crippling a substantial part of Japan's carrier complement. At the same time it has acknowledged heavy blows to our carrier forces.

Possibility that the carrier eventually might be "stricken from the sea" and that the big battlewagons might then engage in an old-fashioned slugfest was raised in June by Chairman Vinson D-G of the house naval committee during consideration of a measure to expand the navy's floating aerial striking strength.

"It may so happen that the enemy's aircraft carriers may be stricken from the sea," he told the house.

"It may so happen that ours will be stricken from the sea. If that happens, and neither side has aircraft carriers to any great extent, then the battleships will come back into the role they were designed to play before aviation reached its high point of development."

The Yucca became New Mexico's official state flower by legislative action on March 14, 1927, after a poll of school children in the state showed strong favoritism toward the spiked blossom.

NO INVESTIGATION, ROOSEVELT SAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Roosevelt told reporters today that they could say that the White House had never heard of a government investigation into Ohio's old age pension division.

He made the remark when he was told at a press conference that Joseph T. Ferguson, Ohio state auditor, had said yesterday that the White House had requested such an inquiry.

Lowell Crist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Crist, who recently enlisted in the navy, is now stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training school. Walter Benner, who will enter the army on Oct. 29, recently entertained a group of 24 of his associates in the Strong Enamel plant of Sebring, at a chicken supper at the home of his mother, Mrs. Annie Benner.

Walter was honored on Thursday evening when 23 of his friends gathered at his home for a farewell party. A social evening was spent with the presentation of gifts to Walter. His mother served refreshments.

Frank and Miss Georgia Diddy of Sebring, Mrs. Ida Wynn of Salem, and Mrs. Rena Whiteleather of this place attended the annual convention of the Women's Missionary society of Eastern Conference, Synod of Ohio, United Lutheran Church in America, held at Grace Lutheran church of Dover on Thursday and Friday.

A Halloween masquerade and social sponsored by the North Georgetown-Bridgewater P. T. A. was held at the schoolhouse here on Friday evening. The business session was in charge of the president, Ralph Schneider, and the secretary, Mrs. Paul Wang.

The November meeting of the North Georgetown Women's club will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Boron on Wednesday evening, Nov. 4.

The program will be under the American Home and Education department with Mrs. Paul Wang as leader.

Roll call will be answered by suggestions for home recreations. Mrs. Lena Demmel and Mrs. Margaret Scarlott of Alliance spent the weekend at their country home here.

Ethnologists consider the blue-bird and thunder bird of most importance in the life of the Navajo Indians of New Mexico. The blue-bird ranks as the symbol of the dawn, the thunder bird represents the summer rain clouds.

Andrew Noone, radio operator aboard the ill-fated aircraft carrier Wasp, is seen at his Jersey City, N. J., home telling his mother how he escaped from the flaming "flatop" after it was mortally hit by three torpedoes while escorting troop reinforcements to the Solomon Islands. Although Andrew was home on leave a month after the sinking, he kept the tragedy secret until officially announced by the navy department.

CITES NEWSPAPERS' VALUE DURING WAR

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30—Jasper E. Rison of the Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal told Ohio circulation managers at their annual convention here that newspapers were more important to their readers during this war than ever before.

"While the public is most patient and tolerant of necessary inconveniences," he said in an address, "it is unfair to hide behind regulations for temporary economies at the cost of service."

He admonished, however, that newspapers could not do business as usual and called for publishers to observe "every rule and at the same time give the very best possible service."

New Victory Tax Comes Out Of Your Pay After Jan. 1

By James Marlow and George Ziekle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Beginning Jan. 1, your employer will start deducting the new "Victory" tax from your pay check.

This is in addition to your regular income tax.

The Victory tax is 5 per cent of your income over $12 a week ($24 a year). If you're on a wage or salary, your employer will withhold this percentage and pay it directly to the government, just as he does now with your social security deduction, which will continue unchanged.

If, however, you're in business for yourself, or you're a domestic servant or farm worker, or a public official paid by fees, you'll pay this tax along with your regular tax on 1943 income March 15, 1944. In either case, you'll find a place on your blank at that time for computing your exact victory tax. The business man will find he can deduct the same expenses as under the regular income tax. And individual will find he can deduct such things as alimony or separate maintenance payments, any gain from a sale or a capital asset or any compensation for injury or sickness. Charity contributions are excluded.

But then he'll come to the matter of:

CREDITS. The treasury is just "borrowing" part of the money involved in the Victory tax. A single person will be able to claim a credit of 25 per cent (up to a limit of $500) and a married man 40 per cent (up to a limit of $1,000)—plus 2 per cent for each dependent (limit $100 each)—of the tax.

These credits fall into two classes:

1. Current credit. You'll be able to deduct the credit from the amount you pay in 1944 on your regular 1943 income tax. (Note this "if" you have paid out an equivalent amount in 1943 for the life insurance premiums (provided the insurance was in force on Sept. 1, 1942), for payments which reduce your outstanding debts below the lowest amount owed in the period from Sept. 1, 1942, to the end of the year; or for purchases of war bonds and stamps.

If your payments for such items do not equal the total credit allowance, the rest becomes:

2. Post-war credit. For this remaining amount of the credit you'll get a government bond or certificate which will bear no interest and which you can't transfer or cash until after the war.

Better sharpen your pencil right now and see whether you won't find it profitable—besides being a good and patriotic investment—to buy some more war bonds next year.

Other ways your pocketbook will be hit:

After you've figured out your regular income tax which will be due next year, plus your Victory tax, better be cautious about planning how to spend the rest of your money.

The treasury is cooking up another taxation measure to go before congress early next year, and most observers predict it'll be a retail sales tax. It might be worked out as a savings plan whereby you'd get stamps—convertible into bonds—in exchange for the money you'd pay.

Some other kind of compulsory savings may be considered, perhaps pay roll deductions for stamps or bonds.

Furthermore, the so-called "pain-killers" taxes have been increased—there are higher levies on liquor, beer, wines, cigarettes, cigars, transportation fares, telephone and telegraph service and lubricating oil.

So don't be surprised if you're left with a lot less money than in the past to spend for luxuries.

Urges Motorists To Get Gas Ration Applications

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30.—Ohio's motorists can register for gasoline rationing "in a minute or two" if they obtain application forms in advance says Harry T. Beckmann, Ohio director for the Office of Price Administration.

He said forms would be available at most Ohio gasoline stations, garages and auto clubs by Saturday and urged motorists to have applications filled out when they appear for basic "A" ration books Nov. 9-11.

Much of the information required in application forms is contained in auto license registrations, but serial numbers of the five tires the motorist expects to retain also must be included, he asserted.

Gasoline rationing is scheduled to start Nov. 22.

Pilgrim in MANHATTAN by MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

Gay and Chloe baked a turkey in Chloe's oven on Thanksgiving, and Hugh had some of the broth. Nick and Tandy at dinner with them. There were candied yams and corn-pudding and mince pie. Tandy had made the stuffing, as he called it. Tandy could cook anything. All artists could cook, he said, even Nick. "The skillet and the palette," said Tandy, "were married long ago."

"Not necessarily for love," said Nick, monotonously chopping giblets for the gravy.

Nick and Tandy were taking turns with the nursing. Gay, at Chloe's request, had said nothing to them about the initials and the pawn tickets. "That's right," Gay had agreed. "If he dies it wouldn't matter. But if he gets well—"

He had said he was going to get well.

They laughed and chatted quietly, the four of them, around Chloe's table. Pilgrims in Manhattan. Nick called them. Gay from Idaho, Chloe from Oklahoma, Tandy from New Orleans, and Nick from Maine.

Nobody knew where Hugh Richards hailed from. No one asked him as he lay in his room, looking out at the sunlight and the patch of sky beyond the roof-tops.

"I'm going to get well," he had said. "Thanks to you." What are you going to do with me?

Chloe had not answered that, for almost at once he had gone to sleep.

On Friday, returning from lunch, Chloe found Miss Jepson in high dudgeon. Miss Jepson had visited the files and recovered the carbon of a letter Chloe had written on Monday after going to lunch with Rann Sturgis.

"What does this mean?" demanded Miss Jepson. "You've got me telling this woman things I never said. About the Piccadilly Puppets and Toots and Her Poodles."

"What did you say?" asked Chloe. "How should I remember? But I know what I never would have said. I wouldn't have told her the puppets were the most intelligent actors on Broadway. There's something about that—The real actors could sue us if they saw it. It's libelous. And she says they'd like to see a sophisticated poodle. Did you write anything like that?"

"I suppose it was rather trite," Chloe said. "But I don't use slang either. And when you make me say words wrong you make the whole Bureau sound ignorant. Sophisticated is when you can carry your liquor and are broad-minded about sin. You see how silly it sounds using it on those dogs."

"I'm sorry," said Chloe. "What is the Rendezvous Club going to do about it?"

"They're buying both acts, in spite of this letter. We want to see a sophisticated poodle," the secretary writes, and so I go and look up letter to them. And there it is. And she calls our hand. And I've got to show this carbon of yours to Mr. Samuels and explain. He may be going through the files himself. Please to remember I'm as new here as you are. Just because Mr. Samuels and I have mutual friends is no guarantee I can keep my job if I don't—if I don't have—"

"Dignity," offered Chloe impulsively, anxious to get the matter over.

"Education," said Miss Jepson. "Besides, you're looking dissipated lately, like you been running around nights."

"I've been nursing a sick friend," said Chloe, which sounded "tripe," too.

"Really?" remarked Miss Jepson. "Now I'm going to give you some letters, and if you want to keep your job, you'll take them as is."

Chloe took the letters, breathing as the mariner breathes when the typhoon is past.

One of them was to Rann Sturgis.

Dear Mr. Sturgis:

I am sorry that you did not talk with Mr. Samuels or I when you called. It is plain to see that you were not made acquainted with our fine gallery of artists. Rosinda and Ramiro are a supine creation, fresh from the Trocadero in Paris. And so on and on. A hundred times Chloe had turned "galleryxy" into galaxy, and "supine" into anything. They were Miss Jepson's over-worked words. Today Chloe wrote the letters as was, and Miss Jepson read them before she signed them.

Before the next week was out Chloe cared little what the letters sounded like. Her mind seemed a blank on which Miss Jepson printed her dictation, and Chloe transcribed the words in a sort of trance.

The vigils were telling on her. Gay and Nick and Tandy helped her still, but the brunt of the night nursing fell inevitably on Chloe. They stood by her, however, far more than she could have asked, and it was wonderful having Tandy during the day.

On Chloe's desk one morning Tandy had found The Journal of a Jack Rabbit and decided to illustrate it. "It's a darned clever autobiography," he had remarked, excited with the idea. He had hunted jacks in New Mexico and knew all their tricks and their manners. He brought his drawing-board up to Chloe's apartment and spent most of his day working and tending the patient. Chloe's book would have vibrant and eloquent jacks to plead its cause so that no future publisher could resist it, and when it was published and selling like hot cakes, Chloe and Tandy would divide the spoils.

"You're a dreamer, too," Chloe had said to him. She liked Tandy. Everybody liked Tandy, with his lovable mouth and his humorous eyes. Nick, the plodder, wiggled him for laziness, for working only when the mood was on him, but Nick, too, loved Tandy.

"Dreamer, nothing," Tandy had answered. "You'll sell this book. A jack rabbit wrote it. I'd say a jack rabbit wrote it, if I didn't know."

Nick had a job now, painting murals in a Village night-spot. So Tandy stayed with the patient during the day until 3 p. m. when he was relieved by Gay. Chloe took over on her return from the office. Always the thought of Richards was around her. "What are you going to do with me?" he had asked. He would not live, of that she was sure. His prediction of life was upheld neither by the nurse's chart, nor in the physician's opinion.

She knew only that she was going to let him stay in that bed, as he had asked to do. "I promised him he might," she had said, when she first consulted Dr. Kinsey.

"The responsibility is yours, then," the physician had said.

The day before Chloe had faced Dr. Kinsey, she had telephoned Sturgis' office and learned that he had been called back to Albany.

Whatever happens, Rann Sturgis will tell me what to do. He's bound to be back soon.

One December morning Chloe paid Miss Thorpe for her services. It was a Saturday and she would have her check from the office that afternoon. This would pay for another week's rent of the patient's room. Hugh Richards could not go out on the street now any more than he could have gone that first Saturday night. The doctor would wait for his money. Doctors always waited. And the check from the tenants at home was due on the first.

She found a letter from Nate Barlow in her box and read it in the subway or the way to work. It was the third letter she had received from him since she had written, but it did not begin with reproaches as the last had done. It was a short letter, hurried but kindly.

The Coopers, he wrote, had been transferred from Tulsa, and were giving up the house this month. They would write her shortly. In the meantime, he would try to find her other tenants. He described how beautiful the winter was in the red hills and asked what he should do with Reuben while the house was empty.

Chloe got out at Times Square automatically. Nate was writing more confidently than he felt about other tenants. Tenants did not come fast in Wabasha. For a month at least the house would be vacant, and there would be no rent. Nothing more inconvenient could have happened right now.

Chloe was to revise this opinion before the day was out. Something more inconvenient could happen, and did.

Mr. Samuels came out of the private door with a letter in his hand.

She had never seen him look like that. His face was the bursting red of an over-ripe plum, and his beard bristled like quills. She thought at first he was ill. Something in the letter?

Something in the letter, indeed. He shook it furiously, and looked from Chloe to Miss Jepson. Miss Jepson's face had taken on the complementary color of Mr. Samuels'. She had turned green, a wasp, chalky green. She knew Mr. Samuels better than Chloe did.

"Look," shouted Mr. Samuels, "what Gordon, of the Red Fiddle, sends me back. What is a 'galleryxy' he wants to know. And what does 'supine' mean. Miss Cameron? I am asking you. And you, Miss Jepson, it might be a swell idea for you to read letters before you sign them. I call this a disgrace. My friend is laughing at me, and what my other patrons are doing—Well, Miss Cameron, did you do it for a joke?"

"No, Mr. Samuels," lifting her voice. "Miss Jepson insisted that I take it as she dictated."

"Let me see that letter," Miss Jepson yelled hastily.

Mr. Samuels handed her the letter and Miss Jepson, glancing over it, registered an involuntary bewilderment, then her native poise returned.

"I know," said Miss Jepson. "I ought to have looked the letter over, but it was a full day, and I thought I could trust her after having thoroughly instructed her."

"All right," said Mr. Samuels. "You have been spoken to, Miss Cameron. You are here on trial and you are not satisfactory. We don't need you after today."

"But Mr. Samuels, I tell you I took it as she gave it," Chloe was striding behind him. "The letters have always been like that. I've always—"

The private door closed behind Mr. Samuels; then Chloe addressed Miss Jepson:

"You've walked away with it; you may do it again. You may even get hold of a girl that's as ignorant as you are!"

"I am sorry," said Miss Jepson, haughtily, "that you are so post-humous."

Verdict For City

LISBON, Oct. 30.—A jury in common pleas court returned a verdict in favor of the City of East Liverpool Wednesday afternoon, in a $2,500 damage action brought by Ralph and Eliza Wooley of that city.

The action, which had been on trial two days, was brought by the Wooleys, who charged the city's removal of a bridge and abutments over Conrod run in Jethro Hollow in December, 1937, had caused the stream to flow over their property and wash it away.

South's First Half Drives Pin 37-6 Defeat Upon Quakers

WYLIE SPEARHEAD OF SOUTH ATTACK; ROMPS FOR THREE

Colored Ace Throws Two Touchdown Passes In Easy Win

Holding their opponents on almost even terms in the second half after letting them run up a 24-0 lead in the first two periods, the Salem High Quakers went down to their fifth consecutive defeat, losing to Youngstown South, 37-6, at the South High field last night.

Led by their colored ace, Merle Wylie, who scored three six-point touchdowns and passed for two more, South scored once in the first, third and fourth periods and three times in the second stanza. It was the stellar Negro flash all the way for the Red and Blue, who racked up their second win of the year after a string of five setbacks.

Salem Drive Stopped

Salem began a march following the opening kickoff which was ended when Fullback "Pinkie" Prest intercepted one of Frank Entri's bullet passes deep in his own territory and returned almost to mid-field. With Wylie, Glen Culp and Prest alternating, the ball was carried to the six yard stripe in five plays from where Wylies passed to Ed Kiefer for the first score. Grien's extra point try was wide.

A 73 yard sustained drive led to the second South score with Wylie driving over tackle for the score. Grien's placement was again low. Following an exchange of punts, South again began a march, this time from their own 42. Three plays later Wylie passed to Henry Beckenbach who took the ball on the Salem 30 and galloped for the tally. Grien's kick was wide.

South's final score in the opening half came when Soller, a substitute center, intercepted one of Dick Culberson's heaves and carried the ball back to the Salem 27. Wylie went around right end on the first play for the touchdown. Grien's kick was again wide and low of its mark.

The Quakers showed a little more drive in the second half and played their foes to an almost even tilt. Prest climaxed another 55 yard march as he plunged over from the one for the fifth South score. Grien kicked the point.

Entri's Makes Score

Salem's scoring drive, which started after Wylie's fumble was recovered by Walt Brian on the five yard line, was successful as Entri's drove over from the one on the fourth down. Weigand's try for extra point was blocked by a hard charging Steel City line which played spectacular play throughout the game.

Another Salem drive was halted on the South 34 when Harry Ehrhart fumbled after making a first down. A pass play netted the home team nine yards and then Prest got off the game's best run as he sprinted 52 yards to the Salem 14 before Ehrhart caught him from behind.

Wylie Spins Over

Wylie spun over from the six for the game's final score. The try for point was again low and wide. In addition to the South eleven's six scores, two others were called back by penalties. South had the ball on the Salem 12 when the game ended.

The Red and Blue squad racked up 13 first downs to the locals' four and gained 424 yards on the line up scrimmage as compared to the Quakers' 107. South punted only twice, averaging 40 yards a boot. Johnny Plegge, freshman guard, turned in an outstanding defensive game for the Quakers while Wylie, Turner, Kiefer and several others starred for the home team.

BOWLING

The Electric Furnace league's four way deadlock for first place was broken last night when the Purchasing five trounced the Machinists and the Draftsmen won two from Electricals at the Masonic alleys last night.

A three way split for second place existed today, however, as Night Shift "A" shut out the Transformers to move into a tie with the Machinists and the Electricals.

In other matches, the Shippers blanked the Office and Night Shift "B" copped a pair from the Structural five.

BUCKS EVEN MONEY TO TRIP BADGERS; WRU TOPS CARROLL

Denison-Otterbein Fray Is Outstanding Ohio Loop Battle

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30.—Ohio's only unbeaten college grid teams—Wilberforce and the Bucks of Ohio State—tangle with top-flight foes this weekend in the headline attractions of an 18-game program involving Buckeye squads.

Navy and Notre Dame stage their annual fracas at Cleveland's Municipal stadium Saturday afternoon, adding a bit of spice to the Ohio menu, with the South Bend Irish definitely favored to grab the laurels.

Ohio State, the nation's No. 1 team and leader of the Western conference, had no such edge over the Badgers of Wisconsin, whom the Bucks battle at Madison, Wis. No one looked for a repetition of last season's 46-34 free-for-all grobbed by the Bucks, each club having displayed a much tighter defense this fall.

Wilberforce, winner of four straight—all against out-of-state opposition—tangles with Lincoln university of Missouri in the annual homecoming contest over in Greene county, and the invaders are not considered underdogs to the Ohioans.

The outstanding game in the Ohio conference sends Otterbein's league leaders against Denison's Big Red at Westerville. The Otters have won three straight, while Denison has been tied once in three starts. John Carroll, undefeated in its second game in five starts last night, a 21-0 affair with Western Reserve university.

Ohio Northern's Polar Bears also can get into the first place deadlock by triumphing Muskingum at New Concord. If Denison beats Otterbein, Bowling Green, beaten but once in five starts, makes its first conference start by entertaining Kent State.

Other conference games, all between defeated squads, send Wooster to Mount Union, Heidelberg to Capital and Kenyon to Oberlin. Only one tilt is on tonight, Illinois Wesleyan playing at Youngstown, but Saturday's schedule is complete. Here are the other contests.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30.—Ohio's anglers may get a chance to fish in their own back yards—almost. The state conservation and natural resources division plans to add fire and gasoline-rationed disciples of Izaak Walton by opening hundreds of privately-owned lakes and ponds throughout the state.

The division is in an effort to increase to 1,200 the number of such fishing places open to anglers, said conservation commissioner Don Waters.

Under a new type agreement to be used after Nov. 15 landowners would open lakes for three years to free, controlled public fishing and provide a lane for fishermen to enter and leave.

Lake owners could charge for boat tackle and bait.

OPEN PRIVATE LAKES TO STATE'S ANGLERS

COLUMBUS, Oct. 30.—Ohio's anglers may get a chance to fish in their own back yards—almost. The state conservation and natural resources division plans to add fire and gasoline-rationed disciples of Izaak Walton by opening hundreds of privately-owned lakes and ponds throughout the state.

Light And Fast

It might be added that this probably is the fastest team, as a unit, in modern Ohio State history, as well as the lightest. The 230-pound behemoths are gone because Brown wants his tackles and guards to keep up with his halfbacks. Bill Willis, sophomore tackle (and a beauty) is the only man over 200 pounds in the lineup and he exceeds that by only two pounds.

Center Bill Vickroy is the only senior in the line; four juniors and two sophomores complete the first string and the proportion is about the same for the second string. Bob Shaw, a tremendous pass-snatching junior, is a potential all-America at one end.

One Senior Back

Les Horvath, 160-pound right halfback, is the only senior in the backfield. Capt. George Lynn, blocking quarterback, and Paul Sarringhaus, 190-pound left halfback who wears contact lenses, are juniors, and 195-pound Gene Fekete, best fullback prospect to arrive here in years, is a sophomore. Behind there are a raft of classy sophomores, a couple of whom played for Brown at Massillon.

Sarringhaus, a good runner and passer, has improved greatly over his sophomore season, possibly because he is better accustomed to wearing his contact lenses. Fekete can blast through concrete.

Success Formula

Brown's formula for gridiron success, however, probably is even more important than his material. He demands—and gets—speed, precision and CONDITION. If he can't win with the first two he wins with the latter. Condition is an obsession with him. No Buckeye is allowed to sit down or even kneel during a timeout. They have to remain on their feet. They can have no water. But there's never any fourth-quarter sag and the Brown hocus-pocus (of which there is plenty) operates with the same finesse in the last minutes as it does in the first quarter.

They Meant Brown

When Frances Schmidt said goodbye to High Street the prep school mentors stated, in effect, they would send their stars to Columbus if one of their group got the Ohio State job. They meant Brown, of course, whose Massillon teams hadn't been beaten in a half dozen seasons.

Rickey Signs As Dodgers' Boss

Branch (The Brain) Rickey, former St. Louis Cardinals' general manager, signs a contract in New York making him president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, succeeding Larry MacPhail. Looking on are James Gilleadeau, (left) Dodgers' vice president, and Treasurer George Barnawell.

Brown Draws High School Dividends As Ohio Stars Enroll At Ohio State U.

By JERRY BRONDFIELD

Wide World Sports Writer

COLUMBUS—Paul Brown, youthful Ohio State grid coach, had legitimate cause to moan this fall. The Buckeyes' crack backfield of a year ago had been graduated en toto, along with four starters in the line.

Also, five top-flight freshmen stars had fumbled in the class room, including the almost legendary Horace Gillom, huge Negro whom Brown had coached at Massillon, and who was expected to furnish something like eleven-tenths of the Buckeye attack.

Eut Ohio high school coaches had made a promise and their promise is paying dividends. Brown, whose red-clad Buckeyes are among the early-season choices for the national championship.

When Frances Schmidt said goodbye to High Street the prep school mentors stated, in effect, they would send their stars to Columbus if one of their group got the Ohio State job. They meant Brown, of course, whose Massillon teams hadn't been beaten in a half dozen seasons.

Brown went to Columbus last year and the state prep stars have followed him. It followed to such an extent that this year's varsity has the heaviest sophomore tinge in Buckeye history and is the youngest team in the Western Conference.

Of his squad of 43, only 3 are seniors. There are 24 sophomores and 16 juniors.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, 30.—The heights of something: Every Thursday noon Columbia's football coaches hold the open house for sports writers at the training table on morningside heights. At one end of a long table, head coach Lou Little is being badgered to pick a winner between Penn and Army, both of which dubbed his Lions. At the other end is Bob Kane, former track star who has come from Ithaca to speak for Cornell, and track is the subject. You don't learn much at these gatherings, but the ham and eggs are good.

Colan Collected

The coast guard seems to be getting a guy with plenty of courage in Heavyweight Johnny Colan, who was sworn in today. Instead of dodging the Friday the 13th jinx, Johnny is trying to set a record by fighting on three of those days. He faced Jimmy Webb at Madison Square garden Friday, Feb. 13, again on March 13 and on Friday, Nov. 13, he's scheduled to take on Nate Bolden at the Chicago stadium.

Sportpourri

Portland, Ore., will toss a civic dinner in honor of Johnny Pesky Monday night. The Detroit Red Wings put out $1,000 for expense money to look over seven amateur hockey players this fall and had to send them home sight unseen when the kids couldn't get passports to leave Canada.

Service Dept.

When the ROTC boys at New York university receive their commissions they'll be ready to give the buck privates rifle shooting instruction. The NYU bunch recently staged a rifle meet with the ninth regiment of Camp Croft, S. C., by correspondence and won by 3,427 to 3,249.

SALINEVILLE BOWS TO GOSHEN ELEVEN

Climaxing a drive of about 40 yards, Buttermore plunged over from the two yard stripe to give the Goshen High eleven its fourth win of the season, a 7-0 triumph over Salineville at Salineville yesterday.

Hoopes and Grove had carried ball from the Salineville 40 to the two yard line in the third quarter. Grove ran left end for the extra point.

Malvern will be entertained at Goshen next Friday in the final game of the year for Goshen. A win will give them a mark of five wins and three losses for the year, while a loss will give them an even break for the campaign.

Mrs. Roosevelt Surveys Bomb Ruins In London

Sections of London scarred during the famed aerial blitz of 1940 are toured by Eleanor Roosevelt in the company of a civil defense officer. During the tour, America's first lady felt the concussion of bombs which German raiders dropped at a point less than six miles away.

MT. Rural Women To Discuss Economies Of War Times

LISBON, Oct. 30—The second of a series of meetings for the rural women of Columbiana county, stressing "wartime household economies" was held yesterday in Calcutta Grange hall. The meeting was arranged by Miss Emma Ramsey, home demonstration agent of the county extension office. Mrs. Lula Adzell and Mrs. J. M. Huston conducted the meeting at which various substitutes and economies in the home were demonstrated.

A similar meeting will be held in the Fairfield Central school Friday, Oct. 30, at 1:30 p. m., when Mrs. Eugene Meiser and Mrs. Ernest Cope will be the leaders. Additional meetings will be announced later, and all ladies of the county are invited to attend the meeting nearest their home.

Keep your appliances in good repair . . . so they'll last longer

Maybe you can't buy new clothes and wearing apparel as often as you used to . . . but with an electric washer and ironer handy and in good working order you can always have sparkling clean clothes ready for any occasion. These suggestions can add years of usefulness to your laundry equipment —

TO ADD LIFE TO YOUR WASHER

Don't overload it with too many pieces or use too much water. Water may run in the transmission, cause loss of oil and excessive wear on gears. Avoid splashing water around the washer. It may run over the electrical connection to the switch and into the motor causing damage. Connecting cord should be wiped dry and carefully wound and hung up after use. Release pressure on rolls when not in use.

TO MAKE YOUR IRONER LAST LONGER

If starch sticks to the "shoe" of your ironer, add a pinch of salt to the starch. Keep shoe clean. Change the muslin cover on the roll frequently and wash often so that it is always fresh and ready to use. Protect ironer roll and shoe from dust and dirt by covering when not in use. When ironing see that buttons, snaps, hooks, and eyes face the roll so as to avoid scratching the ironer shoe.

★ Even with the best of care, parts of appliances will wear. If any of your appliances are in need of repair, phone a competent electrician now. He may be delayed in obtaining parts, but will give you the best service under present conditions.
